오늘은 자체 휴강!

Due to aggregate sites (mangafox, mangahere, mangago and so on), I am trying out a new way of scanlating.

I am positive that you did not like this method of scanlation, but as long as aggregate sites keep uploading my projects, I will continue to tweak my methods.

Especially, Mangahere.

Hmmm

I have tons to study ...

Oh ...

Studying hard, I see.

Stuyding, studying.

Next week is the exam. Aren't you going to study ?

Studying ...

Hehe ...

You think studying now will make you remember everything at the exam?

It's all useless. A week later, nothing will be left in your brain.

The way it should be done is just the night before...

And shove everything into your brain at once ...

Come to think of it, it will be my first exam ...

How do they make questions in an university ?

<- Freshman. Failed SAT once.

Hey, how am I going to study for the exam ?

I mean how should I study ? Concept? or do I need to study previous years' questions?

-< Junior

How do I study ...?

Just memorize everthing.

Hey ...
Don't you have exam papers from last year or something?

Last year's ...

I do have some.

They look like this.

[The exam paper on

What you are going to collect today is fogs' eggs.

You will collect them and observe them to hatch and record their growth.

I am not asking you simply watch it hatch and become an adult.

I want you to remember what you learned during the classes and make sure they become completely yours by watching it for real.

In addition, these are real fields, so try not to disturb the field too much.

Yes"

Let me see....

Oh, gosh. it's slimy and sticky..

Wow..., these egg sacs are everywhere on the field ... Are these all fog eggs ?

.... What does that grin mean ?

Okay ...

I will start observing it from today.

Let's see...

Oh...

It has begun !

The observation went smoothly.

Their growth was fast and the eggs were about to become tadpoles.

When I was kid, I found tadpoles simply gross.

But watching the eggs become tadpoles today, I even find them cute.

At the beginning, it was just a black dot-kind of thing.

The egg cell divided, developed and divided again...

At one point, its shape became that of a tadpole and comes out to water, breaking the sac.

How many days has it been since I started to watch...

The fog tadpoles are growing past day by day.

They are pretty big now and their gills are appearing...

.... Gill ?

Wait.... why are gills appearing?

And their tales are not becoming shorter ...
Instead, it's getting longer ...

Hang on a sec, I don't think these are ...

Who got the salamanders this year ?!

Sigh ...

I should have become attached to wild lizards.

I cared about them so much and they became salamanders...

You know, they even wiggle to be salamanders

Anyway, are you sure you are going to be okay with the exam ? The subjects are huge.

I have my ways !

Why is she confident... After all, she is attending a freshmen's class as a junior ...

.... You begin studying now ?

But why are you simply staring ?

This is the ultimate technique...

So called retina memorization.

Retina .... memorization?

Yes, normally you study by letting your brain record, remember and understand.

But this method allows the retinas remember the pages !

You don't use your brain, but your retina to record the pages! The ultimate memorization technique !

What is she talking about ...

* The day of exam

Oh, my, sun is coming up..

You are still doing that ?

Time to go to school.

Don't speak to me.

I can't afford to let the memorization fade....

Here.

Mmm...

[Write everything you know about the subject]

So, this was what she meant ...

Mmmm....

Where should I even start ....

I can see ....

The pages I had been staring at for 12 or so hours, I am starting to see from my retinas...

My brain may not remember but my retinas do !

All I have to do now is write them down before it fades !

Yes, it's like a mirage. It will not last long.

As I write them down on the exam paper...

it starts to melt down and when I am about to be done...

Nothing's left !

Done !

I can finally sleep !

Let's go drink in day Lyk !
Nah, I am sleepy. I am just gonna go sleep

Uhuh ... so this is what university exam is like ...

How did it go for you?

Almost perfect.

Ah..., I got confused about one thing...

Ahram, about the DNA restoration....

[technical words]

I don't know.

But you said you did almost perfect ...

She doesn't remember anything.

Hmm....

Choe Yun-Mi... She was paying attention well in the class...

She did well.

Next ...
Song Ah-Ram...

She didn't make it last year and she's in the class again.

Let me see...

She copied everything.

How can someone like her be #1 ...
